FORT SHAFTER, July 26.—The Tuesday night card club met as usual this week at the administration building, and a most enjoyable time was had. Mrs. William E. Hunt was hostess and received the members in the reading room, from which they adjourned to the large hall where the game was enjoyed. Those playing were Capt. and Mrs. William E. Hunt, Mrs. William B. Cochran, Mrs. Julia E. Lohman, Dr. Harry M. Delber, Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell, Mrs. Helen MacAdam, Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner, Capt. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, and Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday. The prize, which was a flash light, was won by Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell with the highest number of points in a very close score.

Lieut. William H. Jones was one of a party who motored around the island last Sunday to enjoy the beauties of the scenery and spend a day in the open.

Dr. Terry M. Bull, of Schofield Barracks, was a guest for dinner on Saturday night with Mrs. Helen MacAdam and Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner, at their home in the cantonment. Later the party motored down town to enjoy the dancing on the Young roof garden.

Capt. and Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder on Sunday on a delightful trip around the island, leaving the post early in the morning and returning late that afternoon.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday entertained on Sunday with a delicious noonday dinner, having with them as their guests, Mrs. Julia E. Lohman and Lieut. Eugene A. Lohman.

Mrs. John Lee Holcombe of Fort Kaneohe was a visitor in the post on Wednesday afternoon.

On Saturday Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood was hostess at a very delightful luncheon which was in the nature of a reunion of four classmates of Bishop college, the three young ladies present having been at college there with Mrs. Rockwood. The table had been made beautiful with quantities of shell pink sweet peas and around this attractive board were seated Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood, Miss Dorothy Linnard, Miss Gertrude Owen, Miss Phyllis Beveridge, Maj. James A. Gallagher and Lieut. William H. Jones. After a couple of hours spent in enjoying both the viands prepared for their delectation and the reminiscences of college days, the party went down to the Moana hotel where, after a glorious swim, they had tea.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday were host and hostess on Friday evening for Lieut. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey, when they entertained at dinner in their honor.

Dr. Harry M. Delber was away on Sunday on a hunting trip.

Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood, Miss Phyllis Beveridge, Miss Dorothy Linnard and Miss Gertrude Owen were luncheon guests at the Country Club on Monday, taking this occasion to renew their recollection of college days.

Mrs. Julia E. Lohman spent a delightful visit at Schofield Barracks this week with Col. and Mrs. Earl C. Carnahan, meeting numbers of her old friends.

Capt. and Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin were guests at a beautiful dinner at the Country Club on Wednesday evening and for a large dance afterwards.

Lieut. and Mrs. John J. Sullivan were the honored guests at a Sunday dinner given by Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner last week.

Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell and Dr. Harry M. Delber were the guests of Maj. and Mrs. William B. Cochran on Wednesday evening for one table of bridge.

Capt. James C. Ballard was the guest of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas L. Crystal on Sunday when they entertained at dinner at the noon hour.

Capt. and Mrs. Henry C. K. Muhlberg were entertained on Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison of Honolulu.

Lieut. Albert Ludeman and family have moved down from Schofield Barracks and have been assigned to the quarters lately occupied by Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick A. Barker.

Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel J. Heidner were the guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Drake at Fort Ruger on Wednesday evening when a very interesting game of auction bridge was enjoyed.

Capt. James C. Ballard and Lieut. William H. Jones were the honored guests at a delightful dinner given by Maj. and Mrs. William B. Cochran on Tuesday night.

custom, while the baskets and bouquets of lovely flowers made a gay showing against the war grey coloring of the ship. Three or four military bands added greatly to the send-off and as the Sherman cast her moorings, "Goodbys" and "Good luck" floated back and forth to the strains of "Aloha Oe."

The Schofield people departing on this boat included Gen. and Mrs. H. Hodges, Miss Evelyn Hodges, Col. John McMahon, Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon, Col. and Mrs. Chas. Hedekin, Col. and Mrs. Wm. Littlebrant, Col. Wm. Guignard, Maj. and Mrs. Chas. Lloyd, Maj. and Mrs. Herschel Tupes, Maj. and Mrs. Fred Austin, Capt. and Mrs. Wm. Browning, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Day, Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. Lucius Durfee, Capt. and Mrs. John Boniface, Mrs. Spear, Capt. and Mrs. K. T. Riggs, Capt. and Mrs. Henry Kilbourne, Capt. and Mrs. Jas. Bell, Capt. and Mrs. Robt. Love, Mrs. Augustus Lawrence, Capt. and Mrs. John Corbitt, Capt. and Mrs. S. Schofield, Capt. and Mrs. Chas. Wyman, Capt. and Mrs. Robt. Calder, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Pridgen, Capt. and Mrs. John Reardan, Capt. and Mrs. Robt. Sears, Capt. and Mrs. H. Estes, Capt. G. de Grasse, Catlin, Capt. Chas. Meals, Capt. Chas. Haverkamp, Capt. and Edgar Whiting, Capt. Chas. Rich, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank, Lieut. and Mrs. E. Denson, Lieut. and Mrs. R. Bratton, and Mrs. Woodfin Jones, Lieut. L. Watrous and Lieut. Wm. Dorman.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pick had as their guest at dinner and later at the cavalry hop on Wednesday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Nye.

Capt. and Mrs. Corbitt Hoffman were dinner hosts on Monday evening for Capt. and Mrs. Byard Sneed and Mrs. Thomas Lowe.

Although the gathering at the polo tea on Thursday afternoon was small, it was none the less delightful. The first team, made up of Capt. Herr,

Social Annoyance

From a hygienic standpoint social annoyances are getting serious, since the strain on both the body and the mind requires constant physical attention. Certainly nothing is more annoying to a refined person than offensive perspiration or body odors. Those who have used Tyree's Antiseptic Powder know it to be the one remedy which never disappoints. For general use—dependable in all cases—it should be in every household.

Dr. M. E. Charter, of the Faculté de Paris, France, said: "If there is a very unpleasant affection and hard to cure at that, it is surely these conditions." He also says, "there are to be found in the drug stores many preparations containing boric acid and talcum. These preparations, generally used in a dried state, have the great inconvenience of clogging the pores of the skin. This is not the case with Tyree's Antiseptic Powder, as it acts as a deodorizing, stimulating agent. My attention was called to this fact while attending several cases of severe inflammation produced by Poison Oak. While no other remedy would give relief, Tyree's Antiseptic in the proportion of two teaspoonfuls to a pint of water relieved the intense pain in a comparatively short space of time."

This preparation is sold in boxes at twenty-five cents and one dollar, by the manufacturer, J. S. Tyree, Chemist, Inc., Washington, D. C.

Hoyle, Lieut. Erwin and Greenwald, played a mixed team and the game was unusually interesting. The teatable, spread under a large open tent looked very attractive, with a silver bowl of red blossoms in the center and the silver services and perquisites set on the white nappery. Mrs. Philip Thurbur and Mrs. Wm. McCleave were the hostesses for the afternoon while those enjoying this pleasant affair included Gen. and Mrs. Chas. G. Treat, Col. and Mrs. Wm. Banister, Col. and Mrs. Tiemann N. Horn, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Lowe, Capt. and Mrs. Philip Kiehl, Capt. and Mrs. Ephraim Graham, Capt. and Mrs. John Herr, Capt. and Mrs. George Paine, Capt. and Mrs. De Russy Hoyle, Lieut. and Mrs. Archibald Arnold, Miss Katherine Treat, Miss Hazel Nelson, Miss Marguerite White, Miss Anderson, Maj. Robert Foy, Maj. John Corey, Lieut. Armory Cotchet, Lieut. John Eager, Lieut. Clyde Selleck, Lieut. Harold Rayner, Capt. William McCleave, Lieut. John Hauser, Lieut. Raymond McQuillin, Lieut. Philip Thurbur and Lieut. Harold Vonderveer.

There have been several moves in the artillery cantonment this week. Lieut. and Mrs. David Cain have taken Capt. Browning's old quarters and Lieut. Arthur White has moved into Maj. Lloyd's house.

STILL EXPECT PAY FOR ALL GUARDSMEN

Members of the national guard who believe that they have certain pay coming to them should communicate with guard headquarters and get their cases straightened out, according to a statement by Capt. L. C. Crawford, Inspector-instructor of the guard.

Capt. Crawford traced the various things that have hindered all the men getting their pay, sometimes it was the fault of the individuals, sometimes of the company commanders, and there had been considerable trouble as to the exact interpretation of the law. "However," said Capt. Crawford, "every organization that has had 60 per cent of attendance since its recognition by the government has either received its pay or the headquarters here has been notified that the rolls have been forwarded to the depot quartermaster at Washington, and checks are expected in any mail."

DELIVERY OF FUEL OIL IS DEMANDED BY BOARD

Regardless of the report of Deputy Attorney A. M. Cristy that the Standard Oil Company was justified in not delivering the 20,000 barrels of fuel oil ordered 10 days previous to the expiration of the city's contract, June 30, the board still believes that the oil should have been delivered and has referred the matter to the sewer committee and attorney's office. By obtaining the oil under the old contract it means a 100 per cent saving for the city.

HAWAIIAN BAND TO BE AT DISPOSAL OF CIVIC CONVENTION DELEGATES

The Hawaiian band is to be turned over to the civic convention, lock, stock and barrel, during the three days' session in September. Supervisor Petrie, who is a member of the convention committee, made the request at the meeting Friday evening of the board of supervisors and it was granted. The board also voted to place as many as possible of its automobiles at the disposal of the delegates for the trip around the island, Sunday, September 16, the first day of the convention.

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston made his first public announcement that he would be a candidate for reelection next December, at a meeting last night of the Tammany club.

Recently, says a Berlin communication, a squadron of German seaplanes, one of which was manned by Bulgarians, successfully dropped bombs on Sulina, the Rumanian port on the Black Sea. In spite of strong counter-attacks all the machines returned undamaged.
